The week at Wellington!

Christmas Jumper Day

Thank you for sending the children into school in a Christmas jumper today, they all looked brilliant. The children also had a lovely lunch time. Wilson Jones our caterers did an amazing job in our new kitchen and cooked us all a super Christmas lunch.

Snowball

The children enjoyed this event last night and all looked fabulous. Mrs. Sherriff took lots of photographs of the children all dressed up. We will be uploading them into class groups on the website early next week for parents and pupils to look at. We will send a parent text out when these are ready.

Busy, Busy Bethlehem

Our infant children sang so well this week in their concert. They were all so confident and enjoyed performing to their parents. The Key Stage One team did a great job, as the concert had to be switched this week, from the church to the school hall due to the weather.

Nursery & Reception

We hope you enjoyed the festive sing a long with the Early Years pupils. They have been busy practicing for this event.

100% Attendance

Badges and a small prize will be given to children who have been in school every day this term. Well done to these children, who are on track to be in the raffle for the iPad or tablet at the end of the year.

Junior Choir

The junior choir performed at St Paul's Church on Thursday and it stopped raining long enough for them to get there! They will be performing along with some year 6 readers on Monday at 9:15am in the junior hall. If your child is in the junior choir or one of the year 6 readers please come along. The children will read the traditional Christmas story by candle light and the choir will sing festive songs.

Class Parties

Most classes have their party on Monday afternoon. Please see the individual teacher for information about this. We have heard Father Christmas may also visit the infant school in the morning with an elf.

Winter Short Writing Competition 2017

This is Wellington's Winter Writing Competition. Please see the latest Merit Assembly PowerPoint on the school's website for further information.
