Gruffalo Adventures with year 2

World news:

New Lego building:

Lego has opened a new interactive museum in Denmark, and it's full of 25 million Lego bricks. The play house is designed to look like 21 giant versions of the bricks the company is famous for. In each block there are 5 rooms that each contain a building space and at least 1 million bricks. There are six different zones full of different models and bricks for children to play with.

The parrot singing for Northern Ireland's footballers:

Kelo is an African Grey parrot, and learnt some of the Northern Ireland team's chants during the Euro 2016 Championships last year. He's now been practicing singing "Northern Ireland", and "Green and White Army" ahead of Northern Ireland's World Cup qualifier against Germany. But sadly, he won't be able to come to the game himself. Kelo's owner had been planning to bring him along, but because of health and safety reasons he isn't being allowed to come.

Anglo Saxon workshop with year 4

Wellington news:

Year 4 Anglo Saxon workshop

This week year four had an Anglo Saxon workshop. They learnt about what they wore, played and ate during their daily life. Kian from Amber Class quoted "I think it was a great time learning all about the Anglo Saxons and I hope to visit Chertsey Museum soon to find out more."

Bike ability

This week, some children have been going out on their bikes with special bike ability people. They have been learning how to be safe when riding their bikes on the road. They had their bikes checked and now know how to ride on the road. Jaineet from Opal class quoted "I had lots of fun and I am now much more confident about riding my bicycle in the road."

Viking workshop with year 5

Local news

Heathrow Airport encourage children to prepare for work

Heathrow Primary School Challenge is being rolled out to 50 schools in the Heathrow area and aims to encourage children to think about careers. Thousands of primary school children across west London are learning about the ins and outs of Heathrow Airport thanks to a new school challenge.

Heathrow Primary School Challenge aims to encourage children to begin thinking about career prospects while teaching them about how the UK's biggest airport exports things like jewelry, machinery, tons of fresh salmon and medicines to many destinations across the world.

Question of the week:

What was your best moment at school? Why did it mean so much to you?
