Who invented the selfie and why?

Everyone has taken a selfie, but has anyone ever wondered who invented the selfie and why it was created? Last year celebrity 'Paris Hilton' said that she invented the 'selfie'. Social media got very angry and said to everyone that she really didn't. But who did? Robert Cornelius invented the first real selfie, outside his lamp shop in America in 1839. In 2002, a man in Australia took a picture of a cut on his lip and wrote 'sorry about the focus, it was a selfie'. In Australia they normally put 'ie' at the end of most words, and then the word selfie was born. In 2012, the word selfie became really popular, and in 2013 it was in the dictionary, and it was awarded the 'word of the year'! The selfie even has its own day in June called national selfie day, where everyone celebrates the selfie!

Alyssa Jagan and her slime-making skills on Instagram

Alyssa Jagan is 16 years old and makes videos about slime on Instagram. she has 850,000 followers. Alyssa said: "It is creative, and it's interesting, and it's something different than what we normally see." She has been making slime since she was 3 years old and has every colour and ingredient to make slime. She has mini crystals, glitter, foam balls, shaving foam, tones and tones of PVA glue and of course, every colour ever created! What is your favourite slime that you have made, is it one of a kind?

Year six mayan workshop

On Wednesday, 24th January 2018, the year 6 children had a Mayan workshop. It ran for the whole day. It was like a whole day of just history, geography and topic. As you might have known, the Mayan civilisation. They did plenty of drama and work. They learnt a lot as well. They even got to taste Mayan chocolate. It tasted like dark chocolate but got a bit bitter at the end. An interesting fact that they learnt was that the Mayan gods made them out of maize. Wiktorija from Opal class quoted "I learnt a lot and had so much fun. My favourite part of the workshop was when Mrs. Gleeson was the ruler of the gods and Mr. Short was the sidekick

Year 6 Open morning

Yesterday, year 6 had an open morning where parents came in to see how their children work in class. In opal class, we had a debate weather people should use animals for testing. The parents got stuck in with their views and tried to persuaded us. Samira from opal class said

UNICEF: Rights Respecting school

On Friday 20th of April, our school will celebrate Earth Day. Earth day is to celebrate the Earth. Each year group will have to do something that will help the environment. Here is what you have to do: Nursery and reception have to walk to school; Year 1 and 2 shouldn't use plastic bags; Year 3 and 4 need to donate clothes to a charity shop and Year 5 and 6 need to have a vegetarian meal. These are called the act of green. Please wear either green or blue clothes. No donation is necessary. Remember to try the acts of green at home as well as school. Also, Fairtrade Fortnight is coming up soon as well!

On Monday 8th January, the year 5 and 6 children of Wellington Primary School stayed back at school and helped Mrs. Murphy do some work with the teachers, teaching assistants and parent helpers from both the infant and junior sites. The year 5 children did a quiz and the year 6 children helped them do a poster activity. Thank you to Mrs. Pal and Mrs. Murphy for helping as well. The teachers now know a lot more about the UNICEF Rights of the Child articles.

Meet Avi the child hen keeper and his 56 hens!

Lots of you probably have something like a dog or cat as a pet - not chickens! But Avi loves looking after his hens, even when it means getting up early to feed them and cleaning out the poo from their pen. He started out with just 4 hens, but then had the idea of selling the eggs his hens lay and so they got some more. Avi and his family now have 56 hens to look after! Sounds like an great way to earn eggs-tra pocket money!

Peter Rabbit makes a visit this Easter at Kew gardens

Want the chance to meet a famous T.V character? This Easter Peter Rabbit will make his appearance at Kew gardens. All visitors will also be experiencing a story telling session and many arts and crafts to complete. But that's not all a new Peter Rabbit 50p coin has been made.
