Longest zip wire ever

We all love a zip wire ride but this looks like something special! The Guinness Book of Records has rubber-stamped it as the longest zip wire in the world - but would you dare to have a ride on it? It's in the United Arab Emirates, in the Middle East, and starts in the mountains before plunging down through the hills. You go at over 90 miles per hour - faster than you're allowed on the motorway - and the ride goes on for a record-breaking 2.8km. That's more than 28 football pitches! Fancy it? Take a look...

It has been 100 years since women had their independence in voting

It has been now 100 years since women were allowed to vote in general elections. There were many debates done by women because they wanted to take part. They would wear banners round their necks that said 'vote women'. Now only 100 years later they finally got there way.

Wellington news:

Topaz class assembly

On Thursday, topaz class presented an assembly about road safety. Road safety is very important because you could get really hurt when you are crossing the road as a pedestrian. Therefore, you must always use the Green Cross Code. Veer from Topaz class said "I am very proud of our assembly and I hope that people now everybody knows much more about Road Safety. I myself have now learnt much more about Road Safety and the Green Cross Code. I had lots of fun doing it and preparing for it as well".

Assessment week

This week has been assessment week. You may have been given lots of math tests, English tests, or even some science tests! Warris in Ruby class says: "I am very happy with my scores as I am improving each time with every test!"

UNICEF: Rights Respecting school

On Friday 20th of April, our school will celebrate Earth Day. Earth day is to celebrate the Earth. Each year group will have to do something that will help the environment. Here is what you have to do: Nursery and reception have to walk to school; Year 1 and 2 shouldn't use plastic bags; Year 3 and 4 need to donate clothes to a charity shop and Year 5 and 6 need to have a vegetarian meal. These are called the act of green. Please wear either green or blue clothes. No donation is necessary. Remember to try the acts of green at home as well as school. Also, Fairtrade Fortnight is coming up soon as well!

Is this what the first Britains looked like?

Scientists have made a model of what they think is the face of Britain's oldest complete skeleton. The skeleton is known as Cheddar Man because was found more than a century ago in Gough's Cave in Cheddar, in Somerset. Scientists have studied his DNA, and rebuilt what he might have looked like - saying he would have had a darker skin than previously thought, along with blue eyes and dark, curly hair.

Meet the dog with her very own bedroom!

Meet Molly the dog whose got something everyone loves to have - her very own bedroom! When her owners had a baby they didn't want Molly to get jealous of the new arrival and wanted to give her a treat too. So they built a whole bedroom for her under the stairs. And it's pretty impressive!
