The KS1 have an African Drumming workshop

Today, KS1 have an African Drumming Workshop. They are very excited to learn how to do traditional drumming in an African style because, this would be something new for everyone and they might love the new skill. Some children were lucky enough to already experience the amazing workshop; they have had a terrific time.

Juniors Harvest Assembly

Yesterday, the juniors had a harvest assembly, where everyone brought in foods, such as biscuits, noodles, tinned food and much more. In the harvest assembly, we talked about how we are so much more fortunate than a lot of other people, and how all of the food will go to people who need help from the food bank.

Cosmic discoveries win Nobel prize in physics

Three scientists have been awarded the 2019 Nobel in physics for ground-breaking discoveries about the universe. James Peebles, Michel Mayor and Didier Queloz were announced as this year's winners at a ceremony in Stockholm. Peebles was honoured for the work on the evolution of the universe, while Mayor and Queloz won for their discovery of a planet around a Sun-like star. The winners will share their prize money of £738,000.

Plastic bags sales hve fallen by 90% in England since they introduced 5-pence charge in 2015.

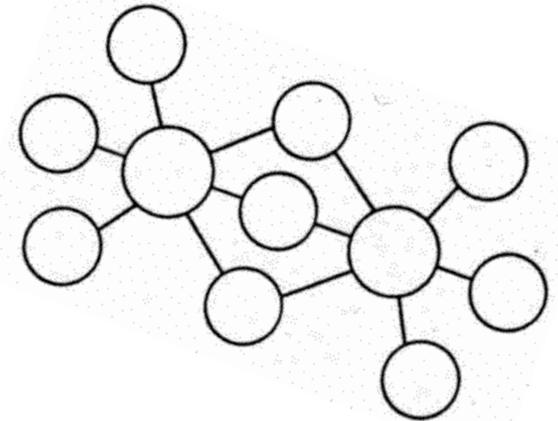

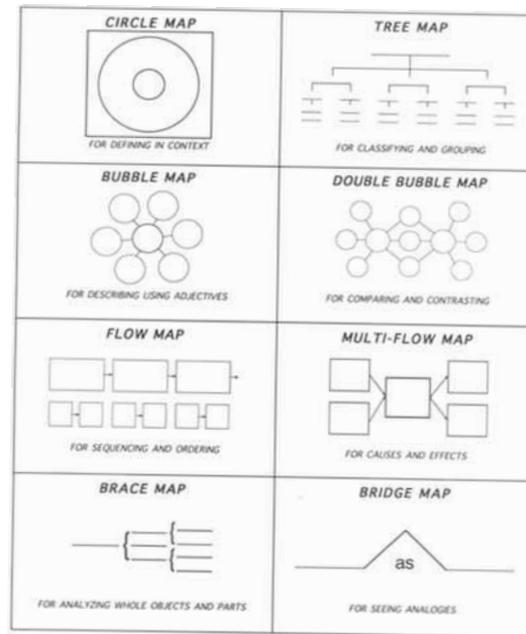

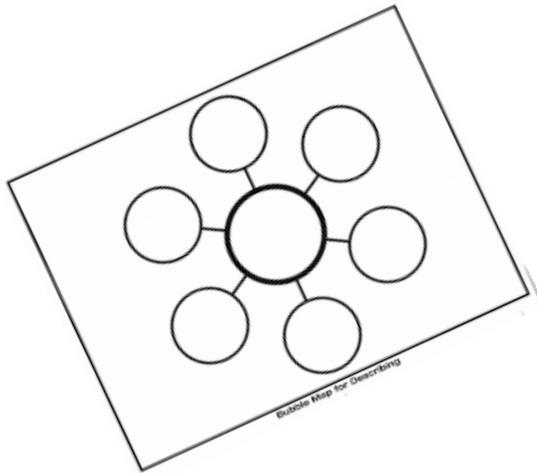

Lots of the sales of plastic bags in England have fallen by 90% since the nation's 5-pence charge was introduced. Just a year ago, lots of famous shops such as: Asda, Tesco, Marks and Spencers, Sainsbury's and many more sold 490 million fewer single-use plastic bags than over the previous year. The data also reveals how 5p plastic bag sales £169 million towards charities and other good causes since it was introduced.

Thinking Skills

These are called the thinking maps. Usually these are put in your classrooms to think using logical skills inside your brain.

There are other ways for people to organize their thinking and share their thoughts and process with others.

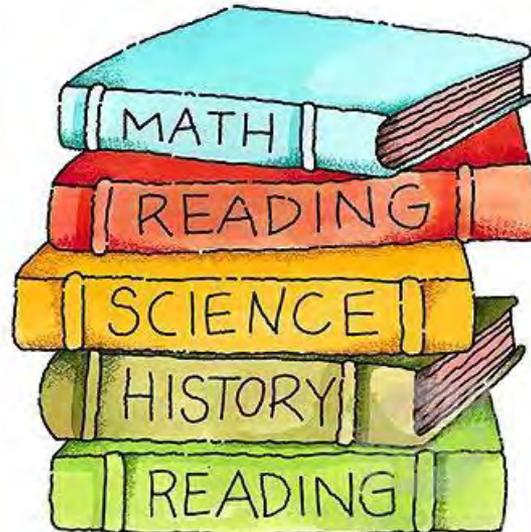

Teachers from Lithuania visit Wellington to find out how we teach thinking skills.

Growth-Mindset Quote of the Week:

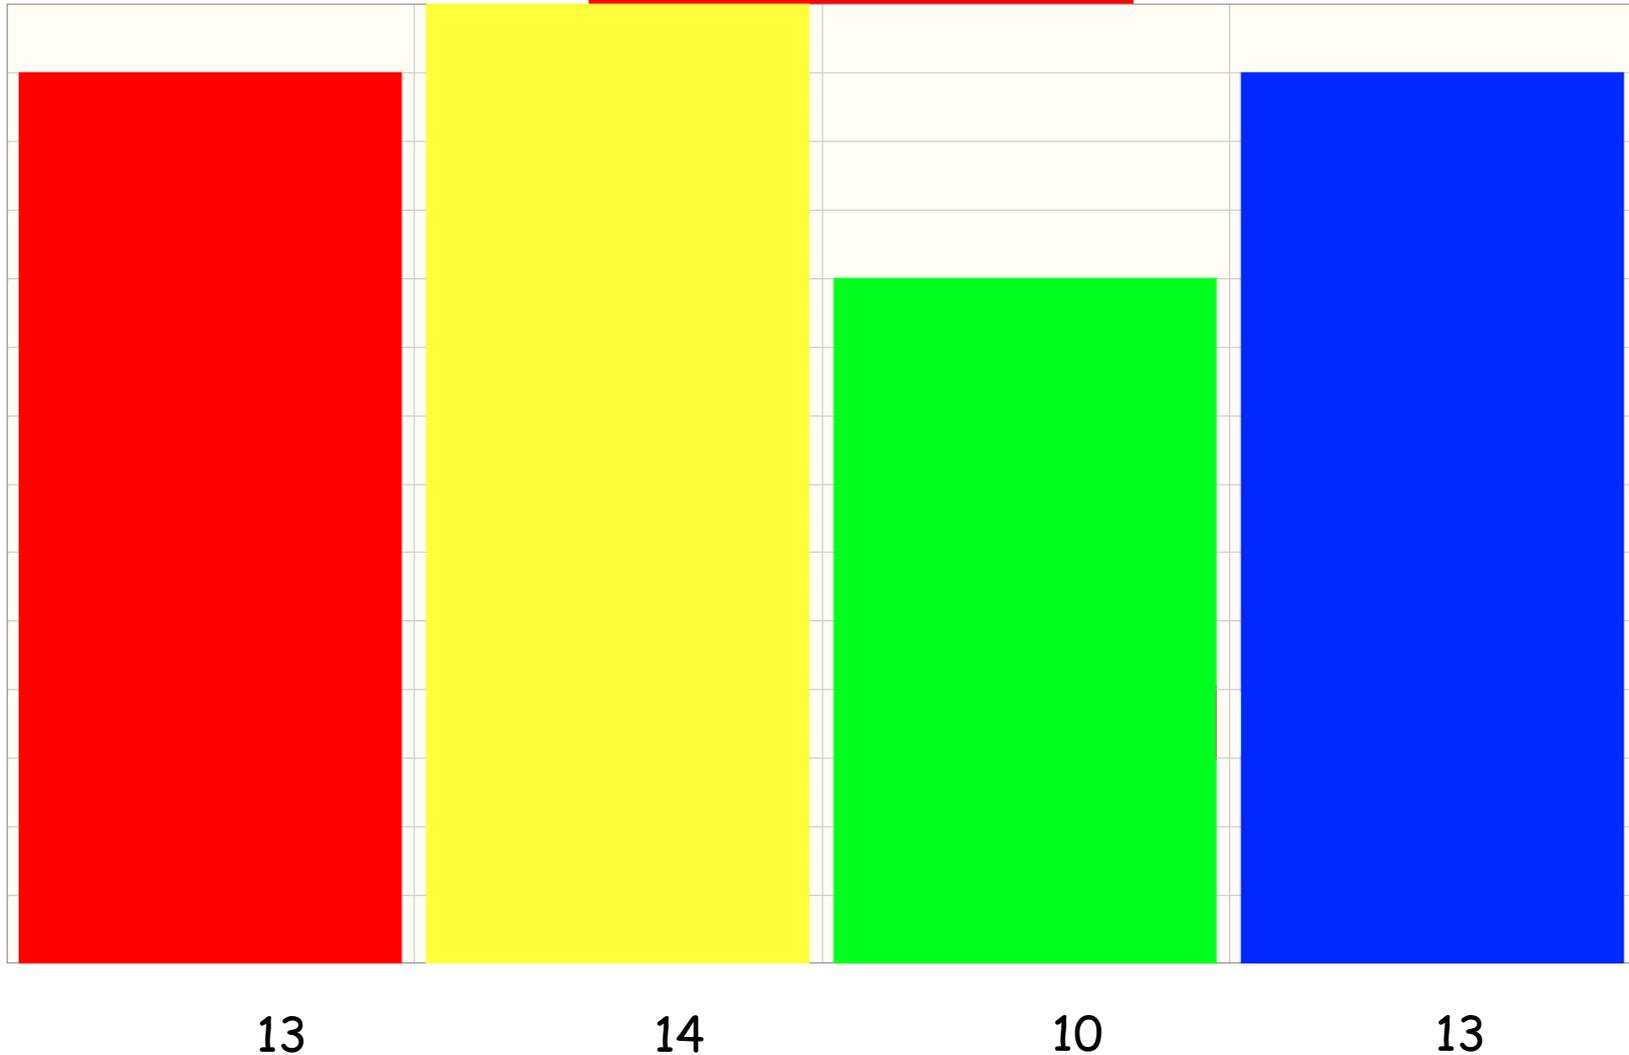

All things are difficult before they are easy.
