Are your children snackwise?

This BBC article below has some interesting facts. (2 Jan 2018)

Half of the sugar young children in England consume comes from unhealthy snacks and sweet drinks, figures show. On average, primary school children have at least three sugary snacks a day, Public Health England found. PHE has launched a campaign to encourage parents to look for healthier snacks of no more than 100 calories - and to limit them to two a day. The eight-week Change4Life campaign will offer money-off vouchers towards items including malt loaf, lower-sugar yoghurt and drinks with no added sugar in some supermarkets.

Snacks containing no more than 100 calories:

- Soreen malt lunchbox loaves
- Petits Filous fromage frais
- Fresh or tinned fruit salad
- Chopped vegetables and lower fat hummus
- Plain rice cakes or crackers with lower fat cheese
- Sugar-free jelly
- One crumpet
